

I do not have time to search through all the AM and FM stations to find traffic and weather news in the large city's that I travel through. XM radio traffic and weather on demand is so helpfull to me when I travel. It has helped me move around traffic and other hazzards several times. It would be too bad if the XM would not be able to supply this information.